THE DISAPPEARANCE OF SUSAN COX POWELL

I Love You, Now Die

In July 2014, 18-year-old Conrad Roy died by suicide in his car at a parking lot in Fairhaven, Mass. Police discovered a series of alarming text messages from his girlfriend, 17-year-old Michelle Carter, that seemed to encourage him to kill himself, sparking sensational headlines nationwide. Leading to a trial that raised difficult questions about technology, social media and mental health, while asking if one person can be held responsible for the suicide of another.

This two-parter, directed by Erin Lee Carr, explores the complicated relationship between Carter and Roy, drawing on some of the thousands of texts they exchanged over two years to chronicle their courtship and its tragic consequences.

Available from 6 October

The Case Against Adnan Syed

The 1999 murder of 18-year-old Baltimore County high school student Hae Min Lee, and the subsequent conviction of her ex-boyfriend, Adnan Syed, were brought to global attention in 2014 by the hugely popular "Serial" podcast. But there is more to the story. The Case Against Adnan Syed reinvestigates the case behind the podcast, from the genesis of their high school relationship to the original police investigation and trial, and moves into the current day. The absorbing four-part documentary series is directed by Amy Berg (West of Memphis, the Oscar-nominated Deliver Us from Evil). In production since 2015, The Case Against Adnan Syed reviews the events leading up to Hae Min Lee's disappearance, from high school romance, forbidden love and cultural conflict, to the aftermath of her disappearance, the original police investigation and the present day, as Syed awaits the outcome of a lengthy appeals process.

Who Killed Garrett Phillips?

This heart wrenching two-part documentary explores the case of 12-year-old Garrett Phillips, who was murdered in his home, in a small town in upstate New York in late 2011. Police quickly zeroed in on a suspect in this unthinkable crime: Oral "Nick" Hillary, a black man in the mostly white community, the soccer coach at Clarkson University and the ex-boyfriend of Garrett's mother, Tandy Cyrus.

Who Killed Garrett Phillips? chronicles the five years following the murder, from the initial police investigation, the account of Garrett's grief-stricken family as they relentlessly seek justice, and the arrest and numerous legal twists and turns that culminated in Hillary's trial for murder, five years after the crime. From two-time Academy Award-nominee and Emmy-winner Liz Garbus, the documentary raises troubling questions of racial bias and issues surrounding policing and the criminal justice system.

THE DISAPPEARANCE OF SUSAN COX POWELL

The Disappearance Of Susan Cox Powell

Susan was 28 years old when she disappeared from her Utah home in 2009. Upon her disappearance, her husband Josh Powell was named as a suspect. However, more than two years later, and after an unsuccessful police investigation, the unthinkable happened: Josh took the life of his two sons and his own. This documentary attempts to uncover new details of the last few years of Susan's life and incriminates her father-in-law Steven Powell in a dangerous way.

Available from 3 November

Conman: The Life and Crimes of Mark Acklom

Mark Acklom is Britain's most notorious conman. Over a thirty year criminal career Acklom duped countless innocent victims out of millions of pounds. As a teenager, he stole his father's credit card and lived the high life across Europe. His family eventually turned him in, resulting in a two year prison sentence and leaving his family bankrupt. Afterwards, Acklom went off the radar for two decades, re-emerging in the West Country under a series of false identities and conning his way into a relationship with Carolyn Woods by posing as an MI6 agent. He then swindled his 'one true love' out of £800,000. Carolyn's efforts to report this to the police yielded little results, so she instead turned to Martin Brunt, the legendary Sky News crime reporter who has since been tracking Acklom and following his story.

Snapped

After developing a loyal fan base in the States, long-running sensation Snapped travels across the Atlantic and lands on Sky Crime. Each episode depicts the true, high profile and bizarre stories of women pushed to the edge and resort to murder, whether seeking revenge against an adulterer, putting an end to ongoing domestic abuse, or even to seek financial gain with a large insurance pay out.

In the first episode, Snapped explores the story of a teenager who is served the ultimate betrayal by her closest friends, while her family are shocked to learn the truth about her disappearance.

Weeknights from 1 October

IN DEFENSE OF

In Defense Of

In Defense Of provides a chilling account of the complex relationships between notorious defendants – including Jodi Arias, Clive Doyle and Timothy McVeigh – and the attorneys that represented them. This four-part series starts with story of John Henry Browne, the criminal defence attorney who represented one of history's most infamous serial killers, Ted Bundy. We hear from Browne directly, as he recounts the challenges faced in the case, as well as the personal and professional journey he took throughout the case.

The Jinx

Robert Durst, the scion of a New York real estate empire, has long been a suspect in the notorious 1982 disappearance of his wife, Kathie. Further suspicion was raised with the unsolved killing of his confidante, Susan Berman, thought to be a key witness in the investigation into Kathie's disappearance in 2000, as well as the subsequent killing and dismemberment of a neighbour in Galveston, Texas. Durst has consistently maintained his innocence.

Britain's Most Evil Killers

This addictive series uncovers the stories of some of the world's most shockingly evil killers – examining the people behind the murders, what drove them and the devastation they caused for the victims and their families. The series kicks off with the high-profile murder one of the biggest police investigations in Bristol - the cold-blooded murder of Joanna Yeates, who was killed by her neighbour Vincent Tabak, and details the testimony from Yeates' landlord Christopher Jeffries, who was wrongfully arrested during the investigation.

Available from Tuesday 1 October

MARK OF A KILLER

Mark Of A Killer

Each episode of Mark Of A Killer examines the disturbing traits and behaviours of serial killers across the world. The series begins with the story of "The Gainesville Ripper", who turned what should have been an adrenaline filled and exciting time of year, as kids returned to college, into a harrowing and unnerving experience that everyone wanted to forget. In August 1990, Danny Rolling, arrived on a University of Florida campus and began his murder spree, ending the lives of five students in under four days. The Mark of a Killer explores why.

Available from Friday 4 October

IN ICE COLD BLOOD

In Ice Cold Blood

US actor and rapper Ice T tells the raw, unbridled and chilling true crime tales, all centring around money, sex, lust and greed. Each episode features re-enactments, in-depth interviews with detectives, friends and family, along with archive footage, as Ice T pieces together the evidence, clues and crims of the victims and perpetrators.

Episode one starts the tale of an unforgiving Thanksgiving weekend, when a girl is brutally killed, but it takes over a year for detectives to uncover the dark and sinister reason why.
